The changes in the OP PIK evaluation procedure were approved as follows:

VÝSLEDKY A PLÁNY PROJEKTU V ČR

2) VZNIK TECHNOLOGICKÉ PLATFORMY V RÁMCI DANÉHO PROGRAMU OP PIK A PILOTNÍHO PROJEKTU V RÁMCI PROGRAMU APLIKACE

Based on the discussions, DEX Innovation Centre additionally asked partners of the HoCare project whether they know about any further project from their countries involving set up of living lab in their countries and 2 examples have been feeded back from the partnership Also DEX Innovation Centre has planned the next RMG meeting for April 18th, 2018 targetted for discussing this previously opened action with the interested RMG memebers. For multiplication effect, the meeting is planned to be followed by the National Policy Learning event where other possible members could be potentially informed and recruited.

2. Action (please list and describe the actions to be implemented)

Having said above, the following specific Action will be sought to continue the developments until now:

- 1) cooperation platform project being facilitated and set up by several stakeholders of the HoCare project in the Czech Republic and submitted to OP PIK to its Cooperation intervention programme including a common pilot cooperation project (if possible living lab)

The technology platform project will be sought to be facilitated, set up and submitted to OP PIK by a consortium of engaged HoCare stakeholders in the Czech Republic to enable common cooperation platform, inclusion of new actors of the R&I ecosystem in home care including end-users and informal healthcare providers and their associations. This action is also favoured by the Ministry of Industry and Trade itself as they recommended on the RMG meeting on December 4th, 2017. The submitted cooperation project will also include pilot cooperative project – if possible living lab - in home care.

For facilitating, preparing, and submitting such project, interested network needs to be established first, pilot project and activities of the technology platform defined, feasibility study carried out and the whole project needs to be submitted to Cooperation intervention programme - Technology platform during the next opened call.
